

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system for non-destructive testing using acoustic techniques includes first and second measuring probes and an electronic unit. Each probe includes a penetrating end and a retaining flange end. Each probe further includes a handle slideably coupled to the 5 probe and a transducer for detecting stress waves. The probes are lightweight, portable, and rugged for field testing wood products.

BCS:jam

10